

TAP IT to TEXAS

Houston hosts the city's first tap festival in 20 years this month. Coming to the state's largest city for three rhythm-filled days, the Space City Tap Festival boasts more than 25 classes in all levels. Renowned tappers and teachers include Chloe Arnold and Jason Samuels Smith, who was honored by Dance Magazine in November. The festival concludes with a student-faculty performance, open to the public, to recognize Acia Gray's efforts to keep tap alive, kicking, and in the heart of Texas. Feb. 26–28.
